Dear Parent,

All of the schools in Madison County have been offered the opportunity to work with Cooperating School Districts in implementing The CHARACTER^{plus}® Way, a process designed to improve schools by providing a more caring environment for students. A partnership of school, home, and community, CHARACTER^{plus}® emphasizes positive character traits by integrating them into everyday classroom activities.

Our school is one of the schools participating in this federally funded grant. As part of the grant, we may collect information from your child. A survey will be administered in March to all 11th graders at our school. It will take only about fifteen minutes to complete. The survey questions focus on your child's participation in school activities, his/her opinions about how students and teachers cooperate within the school and his/her feelings toward school.

The student survey data will be summarized along with staff information for use in program planning. All survey information will be provided in statistical summary form only. No individual survey information will be provided.

A copy of the student survey is in the school office and available for you to examine. Should you prefer that your child not take the survey, simply contact the school.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. Eric Flohr
Collinsville High School
Principal
